Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 16 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry today but gradually becoming more unsettled.

Today:
Fog patches in the southwest clearing. Elsewhere, fairly cloudy and dry for most during the day. Rain developing over Northern Ireland and west Scotland later will then gradually move east. Becoming milder.

Tonight:
Rather cloudy with rain in the north, this locally heavy in places. It will gradually move south-eastwards into Wales and western England through the night.

Sunday:
Dry but often cloudy across central and southeast England. Outbreaks of rain/drizzle elsewhere, this moderate to heavy at first in Scotland, with mist and low cloud in the west.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain, heavy in places, spreading eastwards Monday. Further rain in the south Tuesday, showers in the north. Very unsettled Wednesday with heavy showers and strong winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.